Directed operations and supported companywide initiatives while leading team of 20 data engineers. Handled all aspects of performance management while championing continuous improvement.

- Delegated process development and database management tasks among engineers.
- Led interviews, onboarding, and training efforts to build and maintain a proficient development team while cultivating a collaborative and efficient work environment.
- Partnered with stakeholders to drive large-scale initiatives including migration to cloud-based integration software.